

Healing & Communication with Animals

Learn the essentials on how to get in touch with your companion animals energetically and telepathically. Release your blocks to connect with your animals and explore new levels of multidimensional communion and communication. Enjoy guided meditations and energetic exercises that will assist you to calm your mind, open your heart and tune into animals' perspectives. Remember how you have already communicated telepathically and how to expand such experiences.

In order to connect with animals, it is important to recognize their spiritual essence and equality. Animals are indeed able to communicate with us when we open ourselves to the telepathic and energetic connection. Telepathic reception is a connection through both the mind (thoughts) and the heart (feelings). Animal communication occurs when we clear our mind of thoughts and other concerns to create a space for the animals to be heard. We then encourage them to share whatever they wish to make known to us.

Yves Nager will share how animals always played a very important part in his growth and expansion. Over many years, his receptivity grew even more and he gained more clarity in receiving what animals sense, feel and think. Animals often mirror and reflect emotional distress and mental blockages experienced by their human companions. They display illness as a result of this distress or blockages they take on. Yves will share simple and yet very effective and powerful tools how you can work energetically with animals and assist them to heal.

Eunjung Choi will support you through guided meditations and her language of light to travel into realms that are often invisible and unnoticed until we open our awareness. Explore your spiritual oneness with all the kingdoms of nature, with animals, plants, minerals, the elements, and the earth itself. Cherish the magical qualities of all creations, from the land, the forest and the ocean. Intensify your awareness of the intelligence, beauty, and wisdom of all species and flow into a state of oneness with the animals as well as a deep-felt understanding for all of life.

Learn how to quiet and focus your mind when being with animals and learn effective tools for opening the channel to get across to animals and receive what they communicate through visual images, thoughts, words, feelings, sounds, emotions or sensations. You will also receive tools to clear and heal emotional, mental or physical blockages. Clear, center and connect, and you will shed misconceptions that inhibit communion with our fellow beings. Learn from the master teachers about how to connect with animals: the animals themselves.

Eunjung and Yves help planetary healers and conscious trail-blazers to activate their divine imagination, live life magically, and share their gifts with the world using their multi-dimensional tool kits. They have travelled to more than 30 countries to facilitate workshops and ceremonies.
